Democratic Ticket.

For President,
GROVER CLEVELAND,
OF NEW YORK.

For Vice President,
A. G. THURMAN,
OF OHIO.

For Congress,
T. H. PAYNTER,
OF GREENUP.

For Elector,
W. J. HENDRICK,
OF FLEMING.

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27th, 1888.

Paynter is gaining ground every day.

There are ninety-five new girl babies in Vanceburg, but narry a boy.

The Labor party of Massachusetts will put a State ticket in the field.

About four hundred acres of tobacco were destroyed by recent floods in Bath county.

A bill appropriating $200,000 for the yellow fever sufferers was passed by Congress last week.

Seventeen thousand bills have been introduced in Congress since the present session began.

The yellow fever scourge is spreading in the South and quarantines are being established in most of the towns and cities.

LT-Gov. James W. Bryan, whose illness for several months past has excited serious concern for his permanent recovery, is now convalescent.

The percentage of Democratic gain in Maine this year over 1884 is 14 per cent., as shown by complete returns from the recent election in that State.

The bar of Chicago and Illinois tendered Chief Justice Fuller a banquet Monday night. Judge Gresham and Judge Fuller were the principal speakers.

The bill creating a Department of Agriculture, with a cabinet officer to be known as the Secretary of Agriculture at its head, has passed both houses of Congress.

"Get your eye on" some Democrat in your precinct who does not go to the polls regularly, or who might fail next time, and see to it that he is on hand with a straight Democratic ticket on the 6th of November. Our cause and our ticket is worthy of your labors.

The greatest trouble with the Democrats of this district has always been the difficulty in getting them all out to the polls. This, or should be the principal duty of the clubs which are being organized and it is to be hoped that they will leave nothing in this direction undone.

Col. A. M. Swope, of Lexington, a Republican champion, spoke at the Court House in Louisville on last Friday. Owing to his sweeping statements and untrue declarations he is now spoken of here as the Annals of Republicanism. He reversed the tariff schedule one some articles used in comparisons. He spoke at Paintsville on Saturday, and it is reported that the bloody shirt was his principal theme there.

A Republican Congress took the tax off of playing cards and put a tax of 25 per cent. on the Bible. Now this party wants to give the country free whisky and free tobacco. We suggest that they throw in Bowie knives and pistols.—Mayville Bulletin.

The Democracy's Choice.

(Mayville Democrat.)
The Ninth District Democracy have no reason to regret their choice for Congress. Never before did such a magic hand lead them as the hand of Thomas H. Paynter is doing to-day. It is a fact that many Republicans in this district will cast their votes for him. He is the man whom the people can unite upon, and with him they can all stand on the same basis. Every man his own thinker and every man his own boss. Not once before could such a state of political affairs be pointed out as exists now in this district.

The practical issue is twenty-cent whisky and ninety-cent shirts, or ninety-cent shirts and twenty-cent shirts. The Republican party advocate the former, the Democratic party the latter.—Frankfort Capital.

The yellow fever has come this year in time to make a strong argument for the high tariffers. By cutting off all commerce with other nations, and forbidding all foreigners to land on American soil, we might easily keep out the dreaded scourge. Let the Republican National Committee at once issue a campaign yellow-fever tract.

A Solid Delegation.

(Frankfort Capital.)
The promise for an unbroken Democratic delegation from Kentucky in the next Congress is bright and cheering. In the districts now represented by Republicans—two at least, the third and ninth—may be considered secure for the Democratic candidates. The eleventh district will be redeemed by Wolford, unless all present indications are untrue. The tenth district—Taulbee's—will be hotly contested, but the Democrats having such advantage in the personnel of their candidate, and so much the best of the politics involved, that reasoning from cause to effect, it seems improbable that this district should fail to hold its political complexion as now represented.

Mrs. Buckner, wife of the Governor of Kentucky, wears as ornaments a conch-shell lace-pin and sleeve-buttons, which, in addition to their beauty, have the charm of romantic history, having been purchased by her relative, Gen. George Washington, from a shipwrecked and destitute sailor, and worn by the General on the coat in which he was inaugurated. They are beautifully preserved and the coloring is exquisite.—North Kentuckyian.

There is only one drawback to the interesting fact that the ninety-five new babies at Vanceburg are all girls. They cannot vote the Democratic ticket when they come of age. It is barely possible that the poor showing of the Republicans in the Maine election is due to the excess of new girls in the Republican families twenty-one years ago.—Courier-Journal.

As predicted in these columns, the late and latest reports of collisions between the West Virginia and Kentucky border ruffians have all proven to be Mulhannisms. Will not some local lover of truth kindly kill that Catlettsburg liar and send him to this office?—Louisville Times.

When symptoms of malaria appear, in any form, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will prevent a development of the germs of disease, and eradicate them from the system. A cure is warranted in every instance.

Harrison says he looks hopefully to Kentucky. So Dives looked hopefully to Lazarus, but there was, and still is, an impassable gulf between hope and realization.—Louisville Times.

When the system is debilitated by disease, it should be strengthened and renewed with Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine invariably proves itself worthy of all that can be said in its favor. Sold by druggists and dealers in medicines. Price, $1. Six bottles, $5.

Good can, and does come out of Nazareth, and Democrats are found even in Pittsburg, where the Republicans have set up their biggest fat-frying works. A Pittsburg broker has deposited $100,000 in bank, which sum he offers to bet that Grover Cleveland will be re-elected President of the United States next November.—L. Times.

A Gift for All.
In order to give all a chance to test it, thus be convinced of its wonderful curative powers, Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colic, will be, for all sinned time, given away. This offer is not a ploy, but shows unbounded faith in the efficacy of his great remedy. All who suffer from Coughs, Colic, Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, or any affection of the Throat, Chest or Lungs, are respectfully requested to call at G. T. Ross' Drug Store, and get trial Bottle Free, Large Bottle $1.

Republican Tariff Reformers.

Here are the words of some of the leading Republicans, spoken publicly years ago on the subject now of greatest interest to the American people. What has so decidedly changed their opinions? The dates of these expressions are also given here. We have selected only a few from quite a number which we have at hand. It proves conclusively that the Republican leaders are not sincere in their contradictory declarations of to-day, and that their partisanship is their predominant characteristic.

BENJAMIN HARRISON, Nov. 28th, 1882.—The creation of the tariff commission was a confession that the tariff needs revision. If the report comes in it should be promptly acted upon.

JAMES G. BLAINE, in 1868, said: During the entire war, when we were seeking everything on earth out of which taxation could be wrung, it never entered into the conception of Congress to tax bread-stuffs—never. * * * Neither bread-stuffs nor lumber ever became the subject of one penny of taxation. In 1881 he said: Undoubtedly the inequalities in the wages of English and American operatives is more than equalized by the greater efficiency of the latter and their longer hours of labor.

JAS. A. GARFIELD.—I am for a protection which leads to ultimate free trade.—April 1, 1870. For nearly two years the wholesale price of American salt in Toronto, Canada, was a dollar lower per barrel than the same salt was selling for on the New York side of the lake. * * * Certainly, gentlemen will not want a duty continued that enables that thing to be done.—May 18, 1872.

PRESIDENT GRANT.—Many duties now collected might be remitted. I would mention those articles which enter into manufactures of all sorts. These duties not only come from the consumers at home, but act as a protection to foreign manufacturers.—Annual Message, Dec. 1875.

JOHN SHERMAN.—Such excessive protection not only ceases to diversify production, but forces labor into protected employments.—1872. The tariff ought to be carefully revised with a view to correct any inequalities or incongruities that have grown out of the changes of values since the passage of the act of 1833.—January, 1883.

WM. McKINLEY.—The free list might be enlarged without effecting injuriously an American interest.—1882.

J. J. INGALLS.—We are on the verge of an impending revolution. On one side is capital, enriched by domestic levy and foreign commerce. On the other is labor, asking for employment, striving to develop domestic industries, battling with the forces of nature, resolutely determined to overthrow a system under which the rich are growing richer and the poor are growing poorer.

GEN. JOHN A. LOGAN.—When a man stands upon this floor and tells me that this high, this extraordinary high tariff is for the protection of the laboring man, I tell him that I do not understand how he can possibly substantiate such a theory.—April 18, 1870.

LEVI P. MORTON.—"Mr. Morton's record as a free trader offset his cablegram as a protectionist."—Albany Evening Journal (Rep.), Jan. 9, 1885. When Mr. Townsend of Illinois moved to pass the bill to place salt and other articles on the free list, April 5, 1880, Mr. Levi P. Morton voted aye.

If the devil weds to misquote Scripture as often as Republican journals misquote statistics, he would be read out of Hades.—Courier-Journal.

After twenty-seven years of high-protective tariff, one million of men who labor in "protected" industries are out of employment. The figures are Master Workman Powderly's.—Louisville Times.

What has become of all the Democratic opposition to the return of Congressmen Carlisle and Breckinridge? Both have been renominated without one word of Democratic dissent, and both will be re-elected by largely increased majorities.—L. Times.

Removes Her Youth.
Mrs. Phoebe Chesley, Peterson, Cay Co., Iowa, tells the following remarkable story of the truth of which is made for by the rest of the town: I am 73 years old, have been troubled with kidney complaint and lameness for many years; could not dress myself without help. Now I am free from all pain and lameness, and am able to do all my own housework. I own my thanks to Electric Bitters for having saved my youth, and for having completely rid me of my pain. Try a bottle, only 50c. at G. T. Ross' Drug Store.

McDonald on Indiana.

(N. Y. Times.)
Ex-Senator Joseph E. McDonald does not take the pessimistic view of the situation in Indiana that his Republican antagonists in Indiana would like him to have. He says: "I regard the situation in Indiana as very favorable to the success of the Democratic party. Neither the Republican nor the Democratic party has a majority in the State, and the elements out of which they have to secure a majority are favorable to the Democratic party rather than to the Republican party, and they are especially friendly to the nominees of the Democratic party."

President Cleveland is especially strong because of the confidence in him as an Executive officer. They are satisfied with his Administration. Gen. Harrison is weak outside of his own party lines because of his intolerance. He is a very rigid, decided Republican partisan, and not very tolerant of those who entertain opinions different from his own. He has not been very complimentary to his opponents, and especially to the Greenback party, and they do not forget it. But now we must take into consideration that the Republicans have a special interest in carrying our State, as it is the home of their candidate, and no means fair or foul, that can be resorted to by them will be omitted. How much they will accomplish yet remains to be seen, but I have an abiding confidence that our State will go Democratic. I believe our people will not be able to be moved from their convictions. As to the present outlook, my opinion is that the contest will be settled this year by the same States that settled it in 1884, and that the States that are decidedly Democratic will give increased Democratic majorities, and States that are decidedly Republican will give increased Republican majorities. That is the indication from the votes in those States (except Maine) that have held State elections, and will prove to be true in the Presidential election."
